M: Excuse me, can you help me find the nearest train station?

F: Of course! Just head down this street, and when you reach the first intersection, take a left. You'll see the train station about two blocks ahead.

M: Thank you so much! Is it a big station with clear signs?

F: Yes, it's a fairly large station, and there are signs pointing you in the right direction once you get closer.

M: Great, I appreciate your help!

F: You're welcome! Safe travels!

F: Now I'd be happy to answer if you have any questions.

M: Thanks for the presentation. I enjoyed it a lot. Could you tell us more about the weather in your hometown?

F: Sure! The weather in my hometown is pretty mild. We have warm summers with lots of sunshine, and our winters are cold with some snow. It's a great place if you like various seasons.

M: What about the local food? Is there anything special?

F: Yes, of course! Our hometown is known for our delicious seafood. You must try some crab and shrimp dishes at the local seafood restaurants.

M: Are there any famous attractions in your hometown?

F: Yes, we have a beautiful old lighthouse by the sea. A lot of tourists come and see it. And also, there's a history museum in the town center. It is a great place to visit and learn about the history of our town.

M: How do people celebrate festivals or holidays in your hometown?

F: We have a big summer festival with music, games, and fireworks in July. On Christmas, we decorate the town with colorful lights and have a tree-lighting ceremony.

Part 3

Kevin Walker wasn't planning to change the world. He just wanted to help his best friend, Bob. Bob became very sick and couldn't take care of himself. Kevin and other friends began to help him. In 1995, Kevin started Project Open Hand. This group cooks meals and takes them to very sick people. Soon the volunteers of his group were cooking 1,100 meals every day. This number is still growing.

Part 4

As I walk in this new town, everything looks different and I feel very excited. I want to know much about this new town.

I start at the station, where lots of people come and go. The station building is big, and it looks old and new at the same time. I go down to the main street and walk straight along the railroad. At the third corner, I turn left. I find a park.

I enjoy the sounds of kids playing on the swing and the seesaw. The park is so peaceful with green trees. Families have picnics, and friends play games. It's a nice place to relax.

I keep walking and see the hospital. I see doctors and nurses working hard to help patients. It's good to know there are caring people here.

While I'm standing here for a minute, I hear school bells and see kids in uniforms. It reminds me of my own school.

Walking around this town is a lot of fun. I'm discovering new things and learning about this town little by little. It's exciting to explore unfamiliar towns.
